“Side by Side”, Brian Wetzel was a professional stand-up comedian whose career & personal life were absorbed in his struggle with clinical depression and subsequent addiction. Bringing his sense of humor & experience together, Brian takes his audience on a unique journey of laughter, painful truth, and finally hope. By walking side by side with the affliction, he finds a way to keep surviving, keep learning, and keep living.

Quote: Everyone really got a lot out of the show...I believe those who have not been clinically depressed got empathy, those who treat the depressed got understanding and ideas about treatment and those who suffer from it got validation and a feeling that they are understood and not alone.

Brian has played venues throughout the U.S. as diverse as Stanford University and Napa State Mental Hospital.

Please join us for this insightful and humorous movie. We will be serving popcorn and other refreshments

Speaker Meeting Update

We had an intimate crowd of 14 for a powerful message on July 19th at our "NAMI Speaker Meeting".

Dr. Barbara Johnson, Clinical Psychologist from Valley Mountain Regional Center (VMRC), kept the room attuned to her every word as she began her talk explaining what VMRC does for Stanislaus County and how VMRC and NAMI Stanislaus can better serve our community in a future partnership.

The principal topic for the evening, “Autism in the Mental Health Spectrum”, or Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD), explained the many myths related to getting mental health services for the approximately 13,000 consumers in a five County area. Dr. Johnson described the eligible criteria/conditions and what areas of handicap are directed to this populace. She also described how individual educational programs will be needed to service them.

Currently research for this population has not been counted, leaving agencies like VMRC unable to provide the Self-Direction and services needed to include them in their current programming. Looking to the near future, Dr. Johnson hopes to have a clearer picture with testing and criteria aimed at this group to assist our local services in better understanding techniques to help identify these consumers at a younger age.

Dr. Johnson was extremely knowledgeable in her lecture and offered us the most current subject matter and was gracious to stay over for some Q&A.

“This course has literally been a life saver. It has opened my eyes to better understanding my illness and methods of recovery I did not know about before taking NAMI Peer-to-Peer.”

“Since taking the course I have gained employment and committed to my recovery.”
I have been fortunate to have worked with so many individuals in this affiliate and have helped get several trained to be speakers, about 30 in all. So this year, we trained 3 new ones and inherited 2 experienced ones from other affiliates. Sean Rodgers and Jan Morita came to us from other affiliates and have experience with NAMI programs. Yvette McShan, Marnye Henry and Amanda Garcia were recently trained and are a big asset to our group.

In Our Own Voice (a speaker program where two individuals tell their journey of recovery)
- Total presentations this year: 84
- Total audience members: 2,117
- Total speakers participating: 12

Challenges: We are needing to get more Spanish speakers trained as well as other ethnic groups. We want to spread our programs to the underserved communities in our county and also reach other schools and colleges. We have been fortunate to have partnered with CSUS Turlock, MJC, and some charter schools. SCOE also has partnered with us, too. Other venues were medical colleges such as San Joaquin Valley College and Gurnick Academy. We had four presentations to Law Enforcement this year, giving the perspective of family members and individuals who experience mental illness. We spoke to the probationers at the Day Reporting Center, and also to the parents of children/youth at risk in a Modesto Police Dept. program called Wake Up. This is a prevention program for these youth.

Ending the Silence (a new prevention program we presented to the schools and some parents also)
- Total presentations: 19
- Total audience members: 628
- Total speakers: 4

Parents and Teachers as Allies was presented to two school groups; Ceres School District and SCOE employees. We also adapted this to the Sutter nurses training program as well.
- Total presentations: 4
- Total audience members: 230
- Total speakers: 3

With the new year coming, we hope to continue our hard work of education and advocacy to help eliminate the stigma of mental health in our county.

Thank you

We all experience emotional ups and downs from time to time caused by events in our lives. Mental health conditions go beyond these emotional reactions and become something longer lasting. They are medical conditions that cause changes in how we think and feel and in our mood. They are not the result of personal weakness, lack of character or poor upbringing.

With proper treatment, people can realize their full potential, cope with the stresses of life, work productively and meaningfully contribute to the world. Without mental health we cannot be fully healthy.

Yet, understanding mental health isn't only about being able to identify symptoms and having a name for these conditions. There is a complicated system involving local communities, the federal government, research institutions, private companies and other pieces that are all trying to fit together.

Each piece contributes to our understanding of mental health—if one is missing, the picture isn't complete.

Mental Health Conditions

A mental illness is a condition that affects a person's thinking, feeling or mood. Such conditions may affect someone's ability to relate to others and function each day. Each person will have different experiences, even people with the same diagnosis.

Recovery, including meaningful roles in social life, school and work, is possible, especially when you start treatment early and play a strong role in your own recovery process.

A mental health condition isn't the result of one event. Research suggests multiple, linking causes. Genetics, environment and lifestyle influence whether someone develops a mental health condition. A stressful job or home life makes some people more susceptible, as do traumatic life events like being the victim of a crime. Biochemical processes and circuits and basic brain structure may play a role, too.

Recovery and Wellness

One in 5 adults experiences a mental health condition every year. One in 17 lives with a serious mental illness such as schizophrenia or bipolar disorder. In addition to a person's directly experiencing a mental illness, family, friends and communities are also affected.

Half of mental health conditions begin by age 14, and 75% of mental health conditions develop by age 24. The normal personality and behavior changes of adolescence may mimic or mask symptoms of a mental health condition. Early engagement and support are crucial to improving outcomes and increasing the promise of recovery.
